(2) A detailed list showing the actual quantities in each class will be given to each bidder before the commencement of the sale.

2. The wood has been classified according to the classes noted above and intending purchasers are advised to inspect the wood before the sale, as no alteration in the classification will be allowed nor will complaints of any kind be admitted.

3. Each class of wood has been stored in the sandalwood godowns separately in bulk besides accommodation is limited. Each class of wood will be offered for sale in lots of 15, 10 or 5 tons as convenient. Delivery will be made from bulk stocks as purchasers arrive to take delivery. Bids will be per ton of each class of wood. The bids shall be advanced in multiples of Rs. 5 per ton and not less.

4. The sale will be subject to confirmation by the Conservator of Forests, Coimbatore Circle, who does not bind himself to accept the highest or any bid.

5. Before being allowed to bid, each intending bidder must pay an earnest money deposit of Rs. 1,000. If paid in cash, immediately before the sale, this should preferably be in the form of Madras notes for Rs 1,000 or Rs 500. A receipted treasury chalan for the amount will also be accepted. A cheque may be accepted from all established buyers only for the amount at the discretion of the officer conducting the sale.

7. Each purchaser shall, immediately a quantity is knocked down to him, sign his name at the foot of the sale list, in the column provided for the purpose, and such signature will be held as an admission on his part of his having purchased that particular quantity and of having accepted the conditions of the sale notice. No person will be allowed to depute and bid jointly at the sale.

8. Immediately the sale is over, each purchaser, if his offer for any definite quantity has been accepted by the Conservator of Forests, will be furnished with a memorandum showing the total amount due from him. He shall remit 25 per cent of this amount into the Imperial Bank of India at Coimbatore or the Reserve Bank of India at Madras, within fifteen days of receipt of the order of confirmation of the sale and another 25 per cent before 24th January 1942, the balance of 50 per cent less the earnest money deposit being paid in or before 25th February 1942 or against delivery whichever is earlier. The delivery will be by full lots at a time and no lot will be delivered by portions

10 On the purchaser's presenting chalans as proof that 50 per cent of the entire sale value has been paid, a proportion of the wood purchased will be weighed in his or his agent's presence and the quantity handed over to him as provided for in condition 9 supra. If, however, proof is produced that the entire sale value has been paid the whole of the sandalwood purchased will be weighed and handed over. The purchaser must take delivery of and remove the whole of the wood sold to him on or before the 10th March 1942.

A copy of the power-of-attorney must also be sent to the District Forest Officer by post, with four specimen signatures of the agent. Failing this delivery may be refused pending verification, in which case the delay will count against the accepted bidder.

12. No further cleaning or classification of sandalwood will be undertaken by the Forest department nor will purchasers be allowed to clean any wood previous to weighment. The classification, cleaning and weighment as determined by the Forest department must be accepted

13 After the wood has once been weighed and handed over, if the purchaser fails to remove all the wood within the 10th allowed in clause 10, demurrage will be charged at the rate of Re 2 per ton per diem from the last date fixed for delivery until the wood is finally removed.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill* was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 27th October 1941 :—

L.A. BILL No. 28 OF 1941.

A Bill further to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, so as to provide for the sending for service and for the execution within the local limits of the jurisdiction of Courts established or continued by the authority of the Central Government or the Crown Representative in any part of India outside British India, of summonses and warrants for the arrest of accused persons issued in British India, and also for the service and execution in British India of the like processes issued by such Courts, It is hereby enacted as follows :—

1. This Act may be called the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1941. Short title.

* The Governor-General has been pleased to give the previous sanction required by section 104 (1) (a) read with section 79 (2) (a) of the Government of India Act, 1935, to the introduction in the Legislative Assembly of this Bill.

Insertion of new heading and sections 78A, 83B and 83C in Act V of 1898.

2. After section 83 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, the following heading and sections shall be inserted, namely :— V of 1898.

"E.—Special Rules regarding processes issued for service or execution outside British India and processes received from outside British India for service or execution within British India.

Sending of summons for service outside British India.

83A. (1) Where a Court in British India desires that a summons issued by it to an accused person shall be served at any place outside British India within the local limits of the jurisdiction of a Court established or continued by the authority of the Central Government or the Crown Representative in any part of India, it shall send such summons, in duplicate, by post or otherwise, to the presiding officer of that Court to be served.

(2) The provisions of section 74 shall apply in the case of a summons sent for service under this section as if the presiding officer of the Court to whom it was sent were a Magistrate in British India.

Sending of warrant for execution outside British India.

83B. Notwithstanding anything contained in section 82, where a Court in British India desires that a warrant issued by it for the arrest of an accused person shall be executed at any place outside British India within the local limits of the jurisdiction of a Court established or continued by the authority of the Central Government or the Crown Representative in any part of India, it may send such warrant, by post or otherwise, to the presiding officer of that Court to be executed.

Service and execution in British India of processes received from outside British India.

83C. (1) Where a Court has received for service or execution a summons to, or a warrant for the arrest of, an accused person issued by a Court established or continued by the authority of the Central Government or the Crown Representative in any part of India outside British India, it shall cause the same to be served or executed as if it were a summons or warrant received by it from a Court in British India for service or execution within the local limits of its jurisdiction.

(2) Where any warrant of arrest has been so executed the person arrested shall so far as possible be dealt with in accordance with the procedure prescribed by sections 85 and 86."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Section 83 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 (Act V of 1898), provides—

"83. (1) When a warrant is to be executed outside the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court issuing the same, such Court may, instead of directing such warrant to a police-officer, forward the same by post or otherwise to any Magistrate or District Superintendent of Police or the Commissioner of Police in a presidency-town within the local limits of whose jurisdiction it is to be executed.

(2) The Magistrate or District Superintendent or Commissioner to whom such warrant is so forwarded shall endorse his name thereon and, if practicable cause it to be executed in manner hereinbefore provided within the local limits of his jurisdiction."

This provision is, however, not available for the issue of a warrant by a Court in any part of India outside British India for execution in British India or vice versa, but in practice this course has often been adopted. A recent decision of the Court of Judicial Commissioner of Sind brought into prominence the fact that under the law as it stands there is no legal means short of extradition for enforcing the presence in British Indian Courts (or in Courts in any part of India outside British India) of accused persons who are for the time being in any part of India outside British India (or in British India, as the case may be).

Extradition is a cumbersome procedure and a reasons to it is not satisfactory from the practical standpoint of the administration of criminal justice as cases of this kind are of daily occurrence. The present Bill is designed to provide for an efficient and expeditious method to secure the presence of an accused person in a Court in British India who for the time being is in a part of India outside British India and is within the local limits of the jurisdiction of a Court established or continued by the authority of the Central Government or the Crown Representative, and vice versa. In order to complete the arrangement so far as Courts established or continued by the authority of the Central Government or the Crown Representative in parts of India outside British India are concerned, the Crown Representative and the Governor-General in Council will issue corrective notifications under the Foreign Jurisdiction Order in Council, 1902, and the Indian (Foreign Jurisdiction) Order in Council, 1937, and under section 108 of the Government of India Act, 1935, respectively.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislature Assembly on the 27th October 1941 :—

L. A. BILL No. 29 OF 1941

A Bill further to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898

V of 1898. Whereas it is expedient further to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, for the purpose hereinafter appearing; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title. 1. This Act may be called the Code of Criminal Procedure (Second Amendment) Act, 1941.

Amendment of section 162, Act V of 1898. V of 1898. 2. In sub-section (2) of section 162 of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898, after the figures "1872" the following words and figures shall be added, namely —

"or to affect the provisions of section 27 of that Act."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

Sub-section (1) of section 162 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, provides that no statement made by any person to a police officer in the course of an investigation shall, if reduced into writing, be signed by the person making it, nor shall any such statement or any record thereof, whether in a police-diary or otherwise, or any part of such statement or record, be used for any purpose (save as provided in the section) at any inquiry or trial in respect of any offence under investigation at the time the statement was made. Section 27 of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872, provides that, when any fact is deposed to as discovered in consequence of information received from a person accused of any offence in the custody of a police-officer, so much of such information, whether it amounts to a confession or not, as relates distinctly to the fact thereby discovered, may be proved.

2. Their Lordships of the Privy Council in Pulukuri Kottaya and Others v. The King Emperor, I.L.R., 1930, Patna, 224 said that the words of section 162 of the Code of Criminal Procedure were wide enough to exclude any confessions made to a police-officer in course of investigation, whether a discovery is made or not, and suggested the possibility, without however deciding the question that these words might pro tanto repeal the provisions of section 27 of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872. Before that decision, it was regarded as settled law that statements made to a police-officer in the circumstances provided for by section 27 of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872, were admissible and were not shut out by the operation of section 162 of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898. The Indian High Courts subsequently displayed a diversity of opinion on this point. The Madras, Patna and Nagpur High Courts concluded that section 27 of the Evidence Act was a special law within the meaning of sub-section (2) of section 1 of the Code of Criminal Procedure and was not affected by section 162 of that Code. A Full Bench of the Lahore High Court and a Full Bench of the Allahabad High Court took the opposite view.

3. Provincial legislation, in the Punjab by Punjab Act XI of 1940, in the United Provinces by U.P. Act IX of 1940, has already made in the Provinces concerned the amendment which it is now proposed by this Bill to make generally throughout the whole of British India.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

According to Muslim Law the decree of Kazi duly appointed by the state is necessary for certain sacred moun and religious matters such as dissolution of marriages. In addition to these the Kazi is to preside and perform certain ceremonies such as the marriage ceremony and is to conduct the Juma and Eid prayers. After the settlement of Mahammadans in India, Kazis were appointed by the state for the cities, principal towns and in the purgunahs for performing all the duties allotted to them by the Muslim Law. On the inception of the British Rule their status was recognised by the British Government also. Regulation XXXIX of 1793 was the first one in this connection. It was intended to provide for the recognition and appointment of Kazis and Kazi-ul-Kuzzat. The preamble of that Regulation says :—

"Cazees are stationed at cities of Patna, Dacca and Moorshidabad, and the principal towns and the purgunahs for the purpose of preparing and attesting the deeds of transfer and other law papers, celebrating marriages and performing such religious duties or ceremonies prescribed by the Mahammadan Law, as hitherto have been discharged by them under the British Government and also for superintending the sale of the distrained properties and paying charitable and other pensions and allowances under Regulations XVII and XXIV of 1793. The nature of the above mentioned duties renders it necessary that persons of character and duly qualified with respect to legal knowledge, should be appointed to these offices, and encourage them to discharge their trusts with diligence and fidelity, they should not be liable to removal, unless proved to be incapable or guilty of misconduct to the satisfaction of the Governor General in Council. The following rules have been accordingly enacted."

With the gradual increase of the territory of the East India Company, similar Regulations and Acts were passed for other provinces also. In addition to the Kazis, however, there used to be Hindu and Muhammadan Law Officers attached to the courts to help them regarding the administration of Hindu and Muhammadan Law respectively—the presiding officers of the courts at the time having had no training in these branches of law. This had become necessary as the East India Company was gradually transferring the administration of justice from the hands of Indians to those of the English Judges—and was thus necessarily a transitory stage. It appears that in 1861 Hindu and Muhammadan Law Officers were deemed to have served their purpose in having given the necessary training to the English Judges and having produced sufficient quantity of legal precedent to guide future courts. They were no more required and were thus removed by Act XI of 1861. But along with the Hindu and Muhammadan Law Officers, the Regulations and Acts relating to Kazis were also repealed, though as a matter of fact they rather imposed any such burden on the state nor were they in any sense matters of transitory nature. The Honourable Mr. A. Arbuthnot in seeking for leave to introduce the Bill which ultimately became Act XI of 1864, first narrated the reasons Law Officers. Then coming to Kazi-ul-Kuzzat and Kazi he said:—

"It was further proposed by the Bill to dissever connexion of the Government with the office of Kazee-ul-Kuzzat, or the chief purganahs Kazis. These offices did not rest upon, nor were they created by any legislative enactment of the British rule. They were an institution of Mahomedan Government and Mahomedan Society. We found Kazis in every city, town and purganahs, and all our earlier legislators sought to do, was to define generally what the duties of Kazis were and to provide that persons of character and duly qualified with respect of knowledge should be appointed to these offices."

Then he recounted how gradually the functions of preparing and attesting deeds of transfer and law papers, and of Notary public were taken to attest deeds—which were yet then recognised by the courts. He also pointed out that the duties of determining the properties had been gradually transferred from the hands of the Kazis and persons and charities were no longer distributed by them. About the burden that the state had to bear in respect of the salaries of the Kazis he observed:—

"A few Kazis might have received small salaries and there were believed to be few endowments in the Madras and Bombay Presidencies, but the majority of the Kazis had been remunerated for any services they might have performed for the State by Nuzzars or annual presents in the shape of money or shawls which were generally bestowed on the Bengal side on the Id festival. For their services as public notaries or for their attendance at marriages, etc., they were remunerated by persons who employed them."

In the end he described the effect of his proposal after the passing of that Act in the following words:—

"Whether those who had heretofore been appointed by Government or those who had established themselves as Kazis to the satisfaction of the community to which they belonged, would be free to discharge such duties as had heretofore been performed by them and were prescribed by the Mohammedan Law. All that it was proposed to do was to repeal the existing laws as are Statute Book, regarding the office of the Kazis and to declare that the Government would not hereafter make any fresh appointment to that office."

For this purpose a saving clause was introduced in the Act. It said —

"Nothing contained in this Act shall be construed so as to prevent a Kazi aforesaid or other Kazi from performing, when required to do so, any duties or ceremonies prescribed by the Mohammedan Law."

At the time when the Bill was introduced in the Council His Late Highness Nawab Yusuf Ali Khan, the then Nawab of Rampur, the only Muslim member of Council—he was probably nominated for this Bill as he took oath that very day—opposed the provision relating to the abolition of the post of Kazi, but the Bill was passed. The result of this change was just contrary to what was hoped by the framer, who expected that Kazi would continue to function in the Muslim Community in spite of the withdrawal by the Government of their approval to his appointment. This happened as the Muslim Law requires the Kazi to be appointed by the state and as subsequent to the passing of the Act of 1864, it was held by both Bombay and Madras High Courts that the appointment of a Kazi cannot be made except by the State. Thus the absence of a validly appointed Kazi caused great hardship to the Muslim community. This matter was again and again brought to the notice of the Government. Ultimately the late Sir Ahmad Khan brought a Bill in the Legislative Council in 1880, which was passed as Act No XII of 1880 and was named Kazis Act. That Act authorised the Local Government to appoint Kazis for any particular area on the desire of the Muslim Community living in that area, but gave him absolutely no powers. Section 4 of the Act took away whatever sanctity could be attached to the appointment by the Government. It ran as follows —

"Nothing herein contained, and no appointment made hereunder, shall be deemed.—

(a) to confer any judicial or administrative power on any Kazi or Naib Kazi appointed hereunder; or

(b) to regular the presence of Kazi or Naib Kazi necessary at the celebration of any marriage or the performance of any rite or ceremony; or

(c) to prevent any person discharging any of the functions of a Kazi."

The appointment of a Kazi proved to be of no effect. How can a Kazi who was to have as his co-spectator any person who chose of work as such possibly be expected to keep a complete record of marriages of the town or pargannah in which he was working. He could be of no use for purposes of effecting dissolution of marriages as he had no judicial powers. The defect in the Bill was so apparent that when the Bill came up for consideration before the Council even His Excellency Lord Ripon, the then Viceroy, was struck with this strange feature of the Bill and he is reported to have observed —

"... ... it was stated in clause (c) subsection 4 of the Bill that it was not to confer any judicial or other powers on any Kazi or Naib Kazi appointed hereunder. He thought it rather singular to enact that a man who was appointed should have no kind of power whatever."

The remarks of His Excellency were pertinent and as the future proved this novel experiment in the Legislative field came to nothing. In supporting the Bill which was at that time supposed to have some value and to be effective in solving the difficulties of the Muslim Community to a certain extent the Honourable Mr. Gibbs from Bombay is reported to have said —

> "That he might mention with regard to the Bill that the inconvenience of not having Kazis had been experienced on the Bombay side. In former years, before the Act No. XII of 1864 had been passed, there were Government Kazis appointed in all the principal places in Bombay and they were often of great use in settling small disputes which might otherwise have troubled the magistrates or courts. He had never been able to make out why, in that Act, there was a clean sweep made of all Kazis in the country, but it had done harm in leaving the Mahommedans without any sort of head to whom they might refer their little domestic difficulties and this want had been much felt and had led often to their taking the law in their own hands, and committing breaches of it. He was therefore glad to see that the present Bill had been brought in."

But the inherent defect of the Act deprived the Muslim Community of the benefit which it was intended to confer, and nothing came out of it, and it is only a dead letter today.

So it is high time that proper legislation in this direction should be undertaken at an early date. This, however, depends upon the attitude of the Government, as without its help it is not possible to give new powers to the religious official even in respect of domestic affairs of Muslims. Knowing the difficulties of that legislature I restrict myself at the present time only to the removing of some of the defects of the Act XII of 1880 only. It is intended that some regularity may be effected in keeping the records of marriages. The serious conflicts in many cases—civil and criminal—regarding the factum of marriage and the amount of dower debt, etc., cannot be properly settled for want of reliable records of marriages. This is one of the minor handicaps from which Muslims are suffering for want of recognized Kazis. The endless litigation—which is considerably on in causing much dissipation of energy, waste of time and money and is leading to a general lowering of the moral level of the society. Experience shows that wherever records of marriages have been regularly started these evils have decreased. I know that amongst some agricultural classes arrangements of this type have been worked out successfully. But that cannot be done for the whole community without proper legislation, and it is with this view that I am introducing this Bill.

(2) All rules shall be notified in the Gazette of India and shall thereupon have the effect of law.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The treatment meted out to Indians overseas and their disabilities have been matters of deep and ever growing concern to the Indians since a very long time. Indians have frequently given expression to their indignation from public platforms and on the floor of the Assembly whenever occasions arose for these. The latest I wish to refer to is the Asiatic (Transvaal) Land and Trading Act of 1939 passed by the Union Government of South Africa imposing restrictions which are unbearable and strangulate trade and other legitimate activities of Indians. The actions of the Ministers of the

* The Governor-General has been pleased to accord the previous sanction required under clause (e) of sub-section (1) of section 108 read with sub-section (4) of section 213 of the Government of India Act, 1935, to the introduction in the Legislative Assembly of this Bill.

Government of Ceylon as well as Burma prejudicial to the interests of Indians are too fresh to need any comment. They are following the examples of South Africa and Kenya who feel encouraged because His Majesty's Government either does not wish to interfere or is impotent to interfere in spite of our strong protests against discriminating legislation. All negotiations have frequently failed to achieve any satisfactory settlement with some of the recalcitrant British Possession nothing remains but to put into effect the principles of reciprocity which is the object of this Bill. The Bill if passed into law will provide a sanction—though not as effective as the sanctions—to the Government of India wherever negotiations with an offending country in the British Empire fail. The permanent solution of our troubles can only be achieved when India enjoys the same freedom as South Africa or Great Britain.
